About Our Tea

We source from small family farmers, "artists of the leaf," to deliver to you the most fresh, unique, delicious, seasonal and environmentally sustainable teas and herbal infusions available, anywhere. Every few weeks we get new arrivals of really special, limited, single-origin teas. Please ask your server "What's new?" to find out about new tea arrivals.

About Our New Packaging

Have you noticed? No more metal tea tins. Our new compostable tea box is packaging The Buddha would approve of. It's as impermanent and ephemeral as the tea within. Fabricated entirely in this country, composed of post-consumer cardboard, and held together with origami, it turns to mud, just like your tea.

Vegan & Gluten-Free

You've asked, we've delivered—vegan & gluten-free options.

The Why of Samovar

Here at Samovar we exist to create positive human connection. And it's really very simple. We use the tea experience as a vehicle to help us connect deeper with ourselves and with each other. We believe that if we can take the time to connect, to be for just a moment, that not only are we more productive and effective in work and at home, but, that life actually gets better. For everyone. Living just a little bit more awakened and connected, life becomes more about , and less about . And after all, is where it's at. Really enjoying the little things, as well as the big things, is what makes life worth living.

Okay...so we realized that it's nice to have a clear mission (to create positive human connection), but, that it's critical to measure how well we're achieving that mission.

Welcome to our list of values.

We've created our values by drinking a lot of good pu-erh tea, talking with customers, and chatting amongst ourselves. And from our values we've created the Samovar Way...Of Life. OF LIFE has become an acronym that represents the values our company and us as individuals embody.

Openness Open to change and embracing it. Open to being über-aware of our actions and our environment. People can spend their lives practicing awareness and meditation to become more open. We just try to remember to do it and to use tea as a way to practice being present to our world.

Fairness When people feel they are being treated fairly, they feel great. They work better, connect better, and feel empowered. When fairness becomes an issue, life gets worse. Sure, not everything is fair. Fairness is often in the eye of the beholder, so it's important to embody openness when striving for fairness and to clearly communicate at all times.

Love At the end of the day and the end of our lives, it really is all about love. What we leave in the wake of our time on this planet are the reverberating relationships of people we've touched. How do we live our lives creating more love? Tea and positive human connection are about love. Love is paramount to making the world go around, and we do everything in our power to embody it.

Integrity Integrity to us means having the courage to do the right thing. Sometimes that feels uncomfortable. We're a business and need to ensure that we run efficiently, profitably, and in alignment with our values and that we always look towards maintaining integrity.

Focus Without clear focus we can't get anything done. With a strong focus we can get tea made in record time, ensure customers are thrilled when they visit us, and that everything is happening as it should. Distraction is a big-time issue in the world today, between phone, text, social media, e-mail, the news. Using rituals, awareness, tea making, and connecting with our values we strive to achieve focus to not only get more done, but to get it done better, and with more joy.

Energy Life is energy, and our job at Samovar is to convert our energy and time into a phenomenal experience that creates positive human connection. We strive to be energetic, efficient, fast, present, and upbeat. Embodying energy is pretty easy for us, because we can always just drink more tea.
